FRANCE TO WITHDRAW MINISTER AT VATICAN

M. De Navenne to Follow M. Nisard from Rome to Paris.

PARIS, May 23 .- M. Nisard, the former ambassador of France to the Holy See, arrived here to-day and conferred with Foreign Minister Delcasse relative to the closing of negotiations with the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry Del Val. It is announced that the ambassador was re-called in the full sense of the diplomatic term, the French government having given up its first plan to give him indefinite leave of absence. The rupture is further empha-sized by the determination of France to withdraw M. De Navenne, its minister at the Vatican.

ROME, May 23.-Information received from France by the Vatican authorities today indicates that the situation growing out of the Papal protest against President Loubet's visit to Rome and the recall of Ambassador Nisard has assumed a more satisfactory phase. It is understood the Vatican has been assured that the government, unless compelled by action of the Chamber of Deputies, practically intends to allow the matter of Cardinal Merry Del Val's note to drop, thus avoiding a conflict | Wednesday. Laborers Treated Like Dogs and Wontonly Used as Targets in Testing New Rifles.

LIAO-YANG, May 23.-General Ma, commander of the Chinese troops, is in constant communication with Toulisan, the chief of the Chinese bandits, who are adopting military organization instruction. Toulisan's district is the granary of Manchuria. He is a great organizer, and built seven immense granaries which are strongly garrisoned. Toulisan ordered the inhabitants to bring in their surplus grain, forbidding them to sell it to the Russians, ordering them to reserve the grain for the Chinese armies which are coming from the northwest. Hundreds of disguised soldiers are coming up the river, styling themselves as workingmen. They remain idle and are well provisioned, while the Russians are unable in simple language, telling them that their to get food. TREATED LIKE DOGS

EERLIN, May 23 .- A correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung, writing from Harbin under date of April 15, gives striking details illustrative of the conditions of the Russian army and the relations existing between the Russians and the Chinese, He says that two officers, Lieutenant Colonel Korlinsky and Staff Captain Ignotowich, are in the Harbin prison awaiting the carrying out of sentences of death imposed upon them for selling large supplies of gunpowder to the Chinese from the army depots. The officers charged the Chinese $25 per thirty-six pounds, but, their supplies running low, they filled the boxes partly with sand and placed a layer of gunpowder on top. At the same time they raised the price to $50. The Chinese merchants, incensed at the swindle, caused the matter to be made known in higher quarters, and a watch was set, resulting in the detection plies at Nieu-Chwang and that that place of the officers in the act of selling powder is thoroughly protected against any incur-sion of the Japanese. to Russian intermediaries. > The robber bands have grown bolder and mcre active than ever. Within a few weeks of the date of the letter to the Frankfurter 2,000 men attacked a well-guarded railway station. The Russians asserted that they positively recognized Japanese officers in command of the assailants. Continuing, the correspondent says that ferocious bitterness prevails throughout the Chinese population against the Russians. He then relates the following incidents in explanation thereof. After saying that the Russian settlers regarded the natives as being far lower than dogs, the correspondent says that Russian authorities assured him that the peasant settlers tested their new rifles by taking a native as a target. His Highness honored the occasion by speaking at least two words of English perfectly. He was in the chair arranged in front of the machine, and Dr. Gundelfinger was shooting electric sparks into his Highness's sprained knee. When the little blue sparks leaped from the point of the instrument the doctor held his hand, the prince winced and said "Oh, oh!" very plainly. It was explained to him, however, that there was no danger and he "took, his medicine" after Mr. Wong assured him that it would be a good thing for him. When his Highness was thoroughly charged with electricity, and all of his loose hair was standing up on his head, he laughed heartily and said it felt like riging in an automobile The party at the demonstration consisted of Prince Pu Lun, the four secretaries, Mr. and Mrs. Wong, Miss Wong, Wong Lou sell Fortune, Augustus Post, New York, Dr. Edward Bak, Chicago Ting, Sah Fukying, William Fortune, Rus-Gundelfinger, Mrs. Sarah Gundelfinger, Mr. I. Kantrowitz.

Twenty hands shot into the air. Superintendent Kendall's face beamed with pride, as he selected a high-browed youngster, near the middle of the room. "Yery well, my lad, who are they?"
"The School Commissioners," said the boy of the high brow, in a loud voice, his little breast swelling with pride. Even the prince laughed.

CROWDS THRONG THE PATHS OF FAIR BANK

No Less than 2,500 People Attend the Opening Night at the Well-Known Summer Garden.

ENCORED

Following a threatening day, which seemed to promise at any moment a deluge of rain, last night proved almost ideal for the spring opening of Fair Bank. The air was warm and no less than 2,500 people passed through the gates and enjoyed a care-free evening in the open air under myriads of bright light and listened to the orchestra's tuneful music.

No signs of the devastation of March floods, which almost submerged Fair Bank, were visible last night, and those who saw the desolation of the park in March and at its opening last night could not help comparing the scenes. Fair Bank is more inviting then ever with its winding paths and heavy shade trees. During the early part of the evening almost every seat and table in Fair Bank was taken. The music was good, but the crowd was decided in its taste, and the familiar airs received the encores. The same nusical programme will be given to-night but will be changed to-morrow night and again Friday night. Last night's programme was as forlows:
